FAIR NOTICE.

It is just as impossible to run a newspaper without capital as it is to run a farm without labor. We have on our books subscribers who have been receiving the paper for several years past without paying one cent and relatives in town. therefor. The paper changed hands on the first of January last, and under the rules of the new management all subscribers must pay annually or their papers will be discontinued when the time expires. We carnestly request all parties who are indebted to come up and settle before the first of December. Subscribers owing for more than twelve months with their bills unsettled on that date will be discontinued on our books. We desire every man in the county to take our paper, but in return we expect them to pay for it. Money may be sent by express or by registered letter at our risk.
